Dear Nathan

Budget 2017 initiative outcomes

Thank you for your hard work and input as part of the Budget 2017 process.

There were a number of positive changes introduced this Budget to ensure greater scrutiny is applied consistently across all investment decisions. This includes enforcement of cost benefit analysis and broader application of CBAX, greater use of expert panels in the assessment of initiatives and a new social investment track (Track 1) focussed on better use of evidence and evaluation.

As you are aware, we set aside an operating allowance of $1.5 billion per annum for operating and $3.0 billion for capital in Budget 2017. Funding sought by Ministers significantly exceeded that allowance. A large proportion of funding sought was to address volume and other cost pressures across the system, along with some targeted investment in priority areas for a growing population.

To help meet this challenge and respond to the Kaikōura earthquakes, Budget Ministers are proposing to increase the allowances by a modest amount from what was signalled through the Budget Policy Statement in December last year.

Budget Ministers have carefully considered your Budget initiatives, including any joint initiatives and have reached the following decisions:
