Dear National Government,

I am responding as an individual.

1. I am in total support of retaining Section 9 (in it's current form) of the State-Owned Enterprise Act 1986

2. I understand that the Government has to consider all options to generate income and that asset sales seems a suitable choice. I would like to suggest other possibilities;

- raise tax of everyone earning above $60,000 (of which I am one)
- ASK those earning above $100,000 to volunteer paying at an even higher rate of tax
- How about asking NZ citizens for suggestions

3. If asset sales is the ONLY sensible option, I would totally support a combined Iwi purchase of assets, and cannot understand why this is such a problem for the Government

4. My preference regarding asset sales would be that Crown and the other Treaty Partner (Maori) become co-owners of the 51% of assets

Thank you for your consideration

Marama Takao
