Thank you for your Official Information Act request, received on 13 September 2022.
You requested:

Official Information request - Does Property law act override Te ture whenua act 1994

Dear New Zealand Government Property Corporation, What is needed to raise caveats

As it stands your request for information under the Official Information Act 1982 (the Act) does not meet the threshold for 'official information'.

Official information is information actually held in some form by an agency or minister of the Crown. Questions that require a minister or an agency to form an opinion or provide an explanation, and so create new information to answer the request, are not deemed official information under the Act.

Your queries noted above appear to be requests for legal advice or opinion. Treasury is unable to provide legal advice.

You may wish to seek legal advice and/or contact your local Community Law Centre for further information about your query.

Please note that this letter (with your personal details removed) and enclosed documents may be published on the Treasury website.

This reply addresses the information you requested. You have the right to ask the Ombudsman to investigate and review my decision.

Nāku noa, nā
